

Lab 5

That Prommolmard

2023-10-02

Part 1: R & Shiny

1. `conditionalPanel` is useful in situations where a visual element only needs to be shown in certain conditions. For example, there may be a panel that is used to adjust a scatter plot but not for histogram. In this case, we can set it so that the panel is only visible when the scatter plot is shown and disappear otherwise.
- 2.